SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

What proved to be a social event of considerable interest to the people of Southport yesterday afternoon was the wedding of Miss Alice May Grumman of Hull's Farms. The ceremony took place in the Methodist church on Pequot avenue, at 4.30 and was performed by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Lounsbury. The church was well filled with the relatives and friends of the contracting parties as well as many ladies of the neighborhood in pretty gowns of white. The afternoon was very warm, and it required vigorous fanning to keep comfortable. The church was decorated with palms and large bouquets of scarlet geraniums, as well as other potted plants. A large bell hung suspended over the spot where the bride party stood during the ceremony. The organist of the church gave several selections before the ceremony, and upon the appearance of the officiating clergyman played the usual wedding march. "Lent. Father, in the uniform of a monk, came in with Miss Grumman leaning upon his arm. There were no attendants. The bride wore a very pretty gown of the empire style, made of white satin, and of working length. She carried a large bouquet of white roses, held together with wide white satin ribbons, and wore no ornaments. In ten minutes the ceremony was over, and a small reception followed in the church. Relatives and friends were present from Milford, Stratford, Hull's Farms and Fairfield.

Potter, of Malden, Mass. Only relatives were present. They will live at 749 Wood avenue, where the groom has prepared a home.

The Connecticut Society, Sons of American Revolution, will hold its annual outing at Morris Cove, September 2. Some people tolerate roaches and water-bugs in the kitchen, in vain belief that the rest of the family will not find it out. Perhaps they will not, but suppose that some day you would serve a roach in the pie: perhaps then you would wish that you had spent 20c for a box of Cyrus Roach Powder.

EVICTING STRIKERS AT M'KEES ROCKS DEAD DEPUTY AND ALSO COMPANY'S OFFICE

As is usually the case in serious labor disturbances, the chief sufferers by the strike at the Pressed Steel Car Company's works at McKees Rocks, Pa., are the women and children. Hundreds of families have been evicted from the houses rented from the company, and their household goods have been thrown into the street or dumped into wagons without provision on the part of the dispossessed for future shelter. Not all of the women folk of the strikers have been passive sufferers, however. Some of them have borne an active part in the labor war, urging the men to resistance and often leading them in person. Among the men who lost their lives in carrying out the court's mandates for the eviction of the strikers has been Deputy Sheriff Harry Exley, whose death is the latest in a series of deaths during the struggle. The federal government has been called upon to intervene in the strike, the company being charged with holding in virtual slavery the strikers' families. The strikers are now being evicted from their homes.

CONNERY HAS FINE RECORD

Redding Man Voted With People 'All the Time'

MUSKRAT BITES CAPTOR

Redding, Aug. 25.—The confidence in Michael Connery shown by the voters when he being the candidate of the minority they twice elected him to the legislature cannot but be justified and strengthened by the record he has made during the late session. His vote has invariably been cast for measures representing the public interests as compared with those representing the corporation interests. The great test on this broad issue was afforded by the attitude of the legislators on the Public Utilities bill and more particularly by the way they voted on the Chandler bill when it was put forward as a substitute for the Barnum bill. The latter exempted from its regulative scope the Consolidated railroad and the electric railways which were on the two tickets. A law for the solar system which should apply only to the asteroids, leaving out the sun itself and the planets. The Chandler bill took in all the public service corporations and naturally was opposed by the Consolidated. Mr. Connery voted for the Chandler bill. So did B. B. Banks, the other Redding representative who afterwards explained, however, that he did so under no misapprehension. He further made no secret of the fact that he was opposed to any measure aimed at a further regulation of the corporations. It is therefore not surprising that on most important questions brought before the legislature Mr. Banks have lined up on opposite sides.

This is one of the towns to which the new law regarding the election of assessors applies. Under its provisions each of the two parties should this fall nominate three candidates to hold office respectively for one, two and three years. Each nominee on the two tickets will be pitted against the opposing nominee named for a like term of office and each one of the three pairs who receives more votes than his competitor will be elected. After this year each party will put forward only one candidate. The main object of the new law is to guard against the election of boards made up of wholly inexperienced members, a condition which sometimes happens under the old system and one which is obviously undesirable. Another difference in the new method is that it does not secure minority representation on the board.

The dogs of the west side seem to have a particular grudge against George E. Hazen's pigs. Last spring they attacked and killed two shoats which had been turned out in an orchard and last week they murdered another nearly to death. For the loss of the two killed in the spring the town paid the owner the sum at which they were valued by appraisers appointed under a provision of the statute and has since been seeking to recover this amount from the three owners of the dogs believed to have done the damage. These parties at first showed a disposition to settle but subsequently changed their attitude and as warning letters from the town's attorney have failed to bring the desired response the selectmen have decided to sue for recovery.

At the present rate of progress the road across the Ridge flat will be finished by the traveling public during the past week. What was left of Hal Sanford's stone fence furnished ballast for only a short stretch and the contractors bought from George O. and A. H. Sanford the rest of the stone which will be required. It is being obtained from old fences in the lots adjoining the turnpike and delivered by the sellers. A check for the Italian laborers on the job has been put up by Will Banks. On Monday Civil Engineer D. C. Sanford made a survey of the section of Ridge road extending from the Episcopal church to Burr's Hill, having been employed by Highway Commissioner MacDonald to do the work.

Proposals for building this mile of road will be advertised for at once. J. W. Teets is enlarging his summer home on the Ridge with an addition twenty feet square and having a cellar. He has sold his windmill to D. S. Sanford, its former work at his farm well being now done by an engine.

Ray Esqueille has been disabled for two weeks in consequence of being bitten through the ear of one of his fingers by a muskrat which he caught in a brook with his hands. The bite seemed to have a poisonous effect, the wound from it being very painful and much inflamed despite its having been promptly cauterized.

James McDonald lost one of his team of work horses on Saturday from lung fever. He refused $300 for the animal and a Miller encountered the same fate.

Miss Eleanor Osborn, who is now in Italy, will sail for home on Sept. 5. A Chicago lady whom she met on the car on the Ridge with an addition twenty feet square and having a cellar. He has sold his windmill to D. S. Sanford, its former work at his farm well being now done by an engine.

The Georgetown ball team played the Westons in Whitton last Sunday and won, 23 to 3. Moore and Castle were the battery for the Georgetown.

The Ashcroft couple left their cottage on the west side known as the "Lobster Pot," and came to Brooklyn. They retain the key to the house, the windows of which they caused to be boarded up.

A nine from the Rogers & Peet recreation camp on the ranch near Putnam Park encountered the Center team at baseball last Saturday and quit at the end of the fourth inning with the score 15 to 9 against them.

Rev. Elbert O. Miller and wife is in town on his vacation trip as the guest of his sister, Mrs. John S. Sanford. Mr. Miller is now pastor of a large church in Los Angeles, Cal.

The lawn festival by the Ladies' Aid society of Christ Episcopal church will be given on Friday, Aug. 27, from 5 to 8 p. m., at the rectory on the Ridge. Instead of at the premises of Randolph Bradley as first announced.

A fine tennis court is being built by D. S. Sanford on the former site of his barn just above his residence. James Kennedy has gone to the Adirondacks where his wife has been sojourning for several weeks.

The festival given by the ladies of the Center Methodist church last Saturday brought in receipts of $48. Mrs. W. A. Swan, wife of the former rector of Christ church, is at the Ridge Inn for two weeks with her daughter, Miss Clara. A child was born last Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Osborn but did not survive.

Miss Eleanor Sanford entertained a small party at Whitton last Friday evening. W. C. Sanford is slowly improving although still confined to the house by his recent attack of illness.

A party of about 100 Bethel Catholics, accompanied by Rev. Father Kieran, held a picnic at Putnam Park on Sunday.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS CAN BE ABOLISHED

Redding to Vote Upon Question at Special Meeting Saturday

Redding, Aug. 25.—If all the school districts take the action which is expected of them at the special meetings soon to be held, the transfer of their property to the town and the accompanying requirement of equalization will be accomplished by a short and simple method. This property conveyance is one of the initial steps in the process of changing our school system from district to town management in accordance with the consolidation act recently passed by the legislature.

The act provides that in September, after the school property has been appraised by the assessors and turned over there shall be a general assessment by school districts, of all the property of the town and that the annual town meeting shall lay a special tax sufficient to raise a sum equal to the school property's total valuation. This tax is to be abated to the residents of districts the school property of which equals in value the sum which the collection of the tax would yield. Districts where there is a deficiency in this respect must pay a deficiency tax to make up the difference, thus effecting an equalization.

The law further provides, however, that the "parties in interest" may adjust the matter by other means if they see fit. As none of the districts is in debt and as they stand on approximately an equal footing in regard to their school property values and the relation these values bear to district assessment lists the opinion of Attorney General Holcomb was sought with a view to making use of some method which would avoid the considerable expense of compiling a grand list by districts and levying and apportioning a special tax.

Mr. Holcomb rendered an opinion to the effect that the voters of the several districts and not the district committees as their representatives were the parties in interest meant by the statute and that uniform action by these voters is duly warranted. Special meetings would, under the conditions existing here, be a satisfactory compliance with the law. Taxation has power to authorize a transfer of school property which should amount to a final settlement of the matter.

Provision of course that such action was uniform throughout the town. The special meeting of the Ridge district to carry out the plan above outlined has been called for Saturday evening.

This simple and inexpensive manner of meeting its requirements of the law may furnish a useful hint to other towns similarly situated. A special town meeting will be held next Monday afternoon to decide whether the board of education to be chosen in October and which will at once assume entire management of the town's school affairs shall consist of three, six, nine or twelve members.
